

Review League of Legends

Riot Games

League of Legends is a great team game full of tactics and decision making. If you understand the basics of the game and find among 100 heroes of your favorites, then there is no option not to get involved in this cossack game

League of Legends is a MOBA type game (online multiplayer Battle Arena). Two teams of 5 or 3 players fight each other on the selected map. The objective of the game is to destroy the most important point of the enemy base: Nexus.

Achieving this goal is not as easy as it sounds. The game combines elements of fitness and tactics, and there are many ways to win. During the game, be careful of many factors, such as the transparency of the map, currently on the opponent's line, as well as others that may suddenly appear in the fight. Gaining a numerical advantage is often the key to success.

League of Legends is divided into three game modes: Classic (Summoner's Rift), 3v3 (Twisted Treeline), and ARAM (Howling Abyss), which are described in more detail in the next chapter. League of Legends is based on micropayments. Downloading and using the game is completely free. All hero cards, and runes available in the game can be purchased for IP Points (Influence Points), which each player receives to participate in individual competitions.

With real money, you can buy RP (Riot Points) thanks to which you can buy masks for characters that are not available for IP. The skins are for visual value only and do not affect character stats in any way. An additional advantage of having RP is the possibility of faster purchases for the champion that interests us. Only runes are available for IP only and cannot be purchased in any other way.

Due to its appeal and mechanics, LoL quickly became the most popular e-sport in the world, bringing together millions of players worldwide.

The LOL game system may seem like it is not a big deal but that is a complete lie, the developer company Riot Games has made the game mechanics quite simple and balanced so that less experienced players have the opportunity to learn and improve within this great MOBA game.

Unlike other MOBAs such as DOTA 2, League of Legends is quite flexible in terms of game mechanics, making it easier for more people to learn and improve within it. With a little edification and patience even your granny could learn to play at a high level.

The wide variety of champions is a very important factor why you should play LOL. There are currently 130 champions with different styles and gameplay available. If you have never played a MOBA, don't worry, thanks to the diversity of champions you will probably find one that suits your style of play. Do you tend to be a Sniper when you play Call of Duty? Do you like to choose the wizard class in RPGs? Or maybe you love being a fierce warrior in Skyrim. Probably here you will find the perfect champion for you.

League of legends is not a game with a story mode as such, however, it has a fictional world full of mythology, legends, interesting stories that may catch your attention, you can delve into the lives of your favorite champions and meet them on your feet to head. You can have hours of entertainment discovering the extra and the secrets of your favorite champions as a whole Sherlock Holmes.

Riot Games is a company that cares about its players and their fun, which is why they understand that sometimes things can get a little monotonous and tedious, that's why, every certain time they open events with different game modes to you break the routine. In a blink of an eye you can be enjoying an entertaining new event with various rewards, ranging from experience boosts, influence points, and even beautiful custom skins to dress up your champions in cool and even fun ways.

By changing the skin of your character, in addition to changing its appearance, it can even change its animations, dialogues and dances, which further increases the fun of the game.

One of the most important points is that the League of legends game is entertaining to play with friends. Gather your friends and fight together in the fields of justice! Playing it with friends is one of the most fun things you can do!

Have you ever wanted to see how good a team you made with your friends? Well, it's time to discover it, maybe you will be surprised and see that they are the perfect team.
